Fight Took Place in a Saloon,

The Proprietor and Several Others Arrested-Dead Man Buried This Afternoon.

Sanday morning between 2 and 3 o'clock, a man named Jacob Beltonen was killed in a drunken row at Bollmann's camp at the Fulton. Saturday was pay day at the Fulton and a great many Finns had congregated at August Lind's saloon to have a dance and general good time and it was there that the disturbance occurred. The Figns started to quarrel about 1 o'clock and were put out of the house by Lind, after which they began shooting and broke the saloon window, one bullet also entered the house next to Lind's.

went outside and found Beltonen lying a short distance from the bouse and apparently dead. These men were about half drunk themselves and, thinking Beltonen was frozen, brought him luside and put him beside the stove to thaw out and proceeded to enjoy themselves. Soon afterward one of the men went to look at Beltonen and said he thought the man was dying and that they had better send for a physician. Accordingly, Dr. Hosking, of the Allouez was sent for, but when he arrived the man was beyond earthly hope.

Beltonen's skull was fractured, probably by a large club which lay near him when he was found and he also had a large scalp would, which, from the appearance of it, had been inflicted by a dirk knife.

Deputy Sheriff Wilson and Justice Thorp, of the Allouez, were notified and went to the Fuiton yesterday morning to be present at a post mortem examination which was beld by Dr. Hosking. The examination showed that death was caused by a fracture of the skull and by a wound inflicted by a knife. A coroner's jury was immediately summoned and ed wed the remains after which it adjourned until this evening.

Sheriff Mitchell, of Eagle River, was notified of the affair and arrived on the scene vesterday at noon. He arrested August Lind, proprietor of the saloon, Andrew Gabrielson, and two other Finns, Alex Peropen and Leander Weldanen.

plicated in the unfortunate affair or not, but he was evidently selling liquor without a license, which would be sufficient cause for his arrest.

It is not known whether Lind was im-

The man was buried this afternoon in the Lake View cemetery.

That Railroad Once More.

CALUMET, Mich., March 23, 1896. To the Editor—Can you inform us why so few of the Red Jacket and Laurium business men attended the mass meeting held in Hancock for the purpose of agitaa it that the large majority of them think we do not need a competing road, or is it that they prefer letting the other fellow do the work, and come round for their share of the benefits if there are any?

Here in the metropolis of copperdom, where the benefit of a competing road would be most felt, and whose support is absolutely necessary to obtain it, are we doing to keep the good work along? Nothing.

It will require concerted and continued action on the part of every resident of this county to have another road built to this point. There is no doubt but that there is an understanding existing between the D., S. S. & A. and the C. M. & St. P. railroads, relative to the freight for the copper country most probably the latter roads are paid a bonus by the D., S. S. & A. railroad to stay out of Houghton county. Railroads are built and operated for the money there is in them, and if we cannot give facts and fig-ures to convince the managers of the C. M. & St. P. or C. & N. W. railroads that there is more net profit in doing the copper country business entirely on their own lines, than there is in hauling to Champion or Negaunee and taking a bonus from the D. S. S. & A. railroad for the balance, we will not succeed in getting either of the roads to extend their lines to this county. The committee appointed to wait on the managers of the oveted roads, is made up of the strongest men that could be selected, but they will have to go on their mission armed with undisputed statistics as to what is here for another road, if they are to make an impression. Now is the time for Red Jacket business men to get to work, let them form a Business Men's association, get together and do all they can to gather such information as will be an aid to the committee.

A Business Men's association would be a good thing to have permanently in our town, there are many things in which such a body working together might benefit and improve it.

Mr. Vivian, when he was nominated for president last time, said, "If I am elected I will do all I can to benefit Red Jacket." Here is an opportunity to do something that will be a benefit to Red Jacket and perhaps to all of Houghton county. Let him call a meeting at an early date and organize a Business Men's association and endeavor to instil more public spirit into every resident. Red Jacket should, from its commercial standing in this county, be the leader to all things for the benefit of the public. not be always hanging on the skirts of our smaller neighbors. Prooness.

ciety were highly appreciated by all present. After the meeting, the members adjourned to Christ Schenk's, where a banquet was served by Mr. Schenk. Nearly 150 sat down to the sumptuous spread and all voted Mine Host Schenk a royal

The follow-ing jury tried the case: G. Martini, Charles Perry, Bat Shen, John Rowe, Ed-ward Rowe and Charles Wegner. Village Attorney A. W. Kerr appeared for the people and the defendants had no attorney. Four witnesses and the de-lendants were examined and clearly proved that the men fired the candle and they, in fact, acknowledged committing the deed. The men were arcested under the yillage ordinance, probibiting the firing of five crackers, roman candles, etc., within the corporate limits, and the de-fendants claimed that under the ordinance any one celebrating Independence day could be punished for violation of the ordinance. They also claimed that the Browne company used over 100 of these during that evening.
